Ironclad Triple Threat 443

- Height Adjustable
- 36" x 54" Glass Backboard
- 36" Offset
- 4" Post
- Bolt-Down Installation

The Ironclad Triple Threat 443 is an outdoor hoop system designed for your driveway or backyard. The high-quality backboard and adjustable height are a great marriage of professionalism and versatility.

The 443 model comes with a 36" x 54" Glass Backboard. Glass gives you a realistic rebound and a stylish look. Make sure you're the envy of your neighborhood with an Ironclad Triple Threat. The 443 model allows you to have that pro backboard without creating spatial problems. The 36" x 54" measurements are perfect for driveway ball. The 36" offset from the backboard to the post insures that anyone playing on the hoop isn't going to go hurtling into the pole. However, it's still a reasonable enough distance that you won't need to install the post in your neighbor's yard. Post and backboard pads are also provided for additional safety measures.

Height adjustments and installation options allow the 443 model to adapt to your needs. The rim height can be set at anywhere between 5' and 10'. The spring-assisted crank design makes height adjustments easy. Put away the stepladder, you won't be needing it. Simply turn the crank and watch your hoop adjust. An easy-to-read rim height indicator is provided so you don't need to do any guesswork. Whether you are having kids over to have some fun, or you need to practice your free-throws for the big game, Ironclad has you covered. The 443 boasts bolt-down installation. It can be installed just about anywhere, and you don't need a jackhammer to move it. Ironclad offers up a versatile hoop system without sacrificing quality.

Bottom Line: The Ironclad Triple Threat 443 is perfect if you're looking for an outdoor hoop system for a residential setting. The backboard and rim are of the highest quality and installation is a breeze. If you're looking for a professional hoop for your driveway, look no further.
